1405 Service Mechanic

An employee who performs all classes of work done by Servicemen and in addition does such work as installation, inspection and adjustment of industrial equipment and maintenance and operation of industrial meter and regulator sets. He also makes combustion tests and adjustments on customer's gas burning equipment and investigates high gas bill complaints on industrial and large commercial accounts. He also may assist in Gas Servicemen's training program. Industrial equipment is considered to consist of equipment normally associated with production of articles for commerce such as glass and metal melting, annealing, heat treating, enameling, dehydration, distilling, cutting, welding, and forging, and food preparation in other than retail establishments.

In areas where Company services gas air conditioning equipment and upon completion of the training required, his duties include new installation inspections, start-up procedures, maintenance inspections, adjustment, parts replacement and repair of gas absorption air conditioning equipment. Performs associated clerical work, fully and accurately detailing the conditions of the installed equipment and the extent of the work involved in his service call. Maintains equipment performance files and records.
