Rice Leaves Union Staff; Opens Labor Consulting Service

Business Manager R. T. Weakley announced this month that George L. Rice, Director of Research and Education for Local 1245, has resigned from the staff of the Union, effective July 1, 1958.

Rice will establish a labor consulting and research service, headquartered at the Financial Center Building in Oakland.

A former secretary-treasurer for the Hotel and Restaurant Employees’ Union of the Monterey Peninsula, Rice joined the staff of Local 1245 early in 1953. For the preceding two years, he had been associated with the 11th Regional Wage Stabilization Board, initially as Associate Director of the Agricultural Wage Section of the Board, and later as Senior Industrial Relations Analyst in the heavy industries section.

In announcing the resignation, Weakley stated:

"Brother Rice has served our Union well in his capacity as a member of the executive committee which has worked for substantial improvements in wages and conditions, due in part to the relative "drought" it has known over the past several years. This is working, however, for substantial improvements in wages and conditions, due in part to the relative "drought" it has known over the past several years. The social committee has been outstanding. Our Union has managed to fight the 1956 negotiations.

The Editorial Board is pleased to say "Tally Off to Ft. Bragg, California, where our staff are now working on this issue. We hope you will keep up the good work."

Plans are now being formed to stage a dinner and dance at the Valley Rose and to have Bragg in the near future. The social committee promises that everything will be free except the liquid refreshments and a $1.00 to insure that every member and wife or husband will attend this major social function.

This Union wishes to extend a warm and appreciative welcome to Union Chairmen Don Peterson, Howard Wilt Koss and Brothers Johnny Kaiser and Fred Hovilla for the excellent work they have done in building their unit up to a maximum strength.

Just in case you doubt your eyes—this really is an octopus! And instead of eight legs, it has only two! The tall tale was told by the Union's Systems Negotiating Committee for labor and management talks on the agreement. The Committee denied that there was an octopus, and the other side denied that there was an octopus. So the octopus was in the middle, and the two sides denied that it was there. This resulted in a tie vote, and the Committee adjourned to work on the agreement. The Committee then adjourned to work on the agreement.

A Safe and San Die 4th

Our annual national holiday in honor of the Independence of our Country is here again, and while we begin the history, we might take stock of another "greatest" item in connection with American holidays. The greatest slaughter from non-combatant causes is found in the so-called accident casualties in our country. A National holiday is the signal for the grim reaper to mark up statistics when we take off for a holiday of fun and relaxation. The ABC's of CHILDREN'S VISION

Young eyes, growing and developing as they are, can be very sensitive to the effects of poorly designed schoolwork. When this happens, there is invariably some sign of the trouble, but it may be difficult to know how to look for it.

A frequent sign, when differences in vision are not normal, is that the eyes seem to be abnormal in children of school age. Such a condition, when serious, is usually caused by a variety of different factors. It is important to note that the condition is not due to abnormality in the eyes themselves, but rather to the way in which they are used.

In the case of a child who is having trouble seeing, it is important to note that there is not one specific cause for the condition. It is important to note that the condition can be caused by a variety of different factors, including the way in which the child is used.

MATTIEW WELL DEAD; LAST GOMPERS LINK

MATTHEW WOLL, close associate of Samuel Gompers and vice president of the American Federation of Labor for 30 years, died last Saturday in New York. He was 76.

Woll was a member of the executive council of the CIO and also a vice president of the AFL. He had held top union offices for more than 45 years. Out of this activity grew nearly half a century of labor life insurance, a post he held for 30 years, resigning in 1974.

Woll was a member of the executive council of the AFL-CIO. He served as a member of the AFL-CIO executive council and also as the AFL's representative to the CIO.

Born in Luxembourg, Woll came to America in 1904. He began an apprenticeship in the cigar business with two prominent cigar makers, and his career remained true to the principal tenets of the AFL-CIO. In his later years, Woll held several labor leadership positions, including president of the insurance association for 30 years, resigning in 1974.

Woll was president of the insurance company for 30 years, resigning in 1974. He was elected to the general executive council of the CIO, and served as a member of the AFL-CIO executive council.

The huge job was completed at 2 a.m., Friday, June 15th, and commenced their count of the votes. The committee, therefore, duly elected Rep. Fred M. K. Lucas.

We are all grateful to Mrs. Woll for her cooperation and assistance in this matter. We have been informed by Mr. Woll that the power division—already under way on dam construction—will soon be in full operation.

All members are urged to watch for right-to-work laws.
